

GoWildGoWest (GWGW) Events

Terms & Conditions

We would love for you to join us on a GWGW family event but there are a few Ts & Cs to think through:

- GWGW is lucky to be able to use some pretty cool wild spaces. Please respect these spaces and leave no litter behind.
- I retain the right to cancel the event if there are too few participants or if the weather is too bad to operate.
- As an event operator, I have public liability insurance. I will carry out a thorough risk assessment in advance of the event and operate in a safe, family friendly manner. Parents are responsible for their children at all times. I do not take responsibility for injury during a GWGW event nor do I take responsibility for any damage caused to property during a GWGW event.
- GWGW operates in a family friendly environment. If your behaviour is deemed harmful or disruptive to others, I retain the right to ask you to leave. Be nice everybody!
- Cancellation policy: please give as much advance notice as possible to allow others to fill your space.
- I will add your email address to our GWGW newsletter subscription list... it's a super cool newsletter. Don't worry, I won't pass on your details to anyone.
- I will ask for your permission before using any photos of you and your child/ren for promotional purposes and social media.
- The range of activities available on the day of the event will depend on weather and availability of supplies

COVID Guidance:

In the event that any future COVID-19 lockdown measures make it impossible for us to run the walk lawfully, we shall cancel the event.

Please do not attend the walk if you have any Covid symptoms or have been instructed to self-isolate.
